

Spring 2024 Parents as Teachers Family Engagement Survey

The South Carolina Parents as Teachers (PAT) State Office prioritizes and values listening and responding to feedback from participating families. Each year, the South Carolina PAT State Office administers a family engagement survey to gather feedback from families about their experience participating in a PAT program in their community. Feedback

Parents as Teachers is a comprehensive program that meets each family's unique needs.

Developmental screenings and assessments

Personal visits from a parent educator at least twice per month

Referrals to community resources

Monthly group meetings with other families

The [PAT] program is good at relaying referrals for the parent and child. I also like that the program gives books to the children. The most important thing is that the parent educator seems to be compassionate about her job and the families she serves.
